SEASON ELEVEN GIVING

Donors at every level are a part of what makes concert:nova able to continue to create cutting edge performances, support young pre-professional artists, and continue our involvement with community-based programs that brings music to children through community outreach.

If you are a new patron, please consider donating to concert:nova so that we can sustain these programs. If you are a past donor, please consider "stepping up" a level. This will allow concert:nova to not only continue our current performances and outreach, but to extend our community outreach and develop new, brave and creative programs that will transform the lives of those they touch.
